

In the world of The Entirely True Story of the Unbelievable FIB, Fibbers are kid detectives who investigate a very special kind of mystery. They're curious and clever, and they tend to be very good at solving riddles and puzzles. Here's an activity to see how well you'd do as a Fibber. Good luck!

-Adam

ANAGRAMS

Anagrams are words and phrases made from the letters of other words. For example, you can rearrange the letters of cinema to write the words ice and man.

One of the characters in my book is named Fay Loningtime. Fay likes to make anagrams from her name. Below, see how many words you can make from the letters of Fay's name (you can use the back of this page, too). You can only use each letter once, and you get bonus points if you can use all the letters in her name. When you're done, you can try the same activity with your name.

FAY L O N I N G T I M E

| | |
|-------|-------|
| _____ | _____ |
| _____ | _____ |
| _____ | _____ |
| _____ | _____ |

VISIT ME ONLINE
Explore books and programs.

| | |
|-----------|--|
| Website: | www.adamshaughnessy.com |
| Twitter: | @adamshaughnessy |
| Facebook: | Adam Shaughnessy—Author |